Sonoma To Have Proud Place In Diamond Jubilee Parade

Agua Caliente Postmistress Weds Cloverdale Young Man

SONOMA'S OLD MISSION TO BE LEADING FEATURE

Native Sons and Daughters of Sonoma Parlors Will Be In Second Division of Great Pageant.

Sonoma City is to have a proud place in the colorful pageant parade of the Diamond Jubilee in San Francisco on September 9th, when the Native Sons and Daughters will feature the episode of the old Mission San Francisco de Solano, of Sonoma, which will be in the second division of the grand line of march featuring the Mission period and history of our Golden State. There will be two or three other of California's famous Missions in this division, but none will be more beautifully or faithfully portrayed than Sonoma's Mission.

A float is being constructed by Mr. Murphy, a specialist of San Francisco on celebration features. It will be a replica of the Mission and above it will be the Mission bells, while in the foreground the cornucopia of plenty will be featured with the fruits and flowers of this beautiful land of the padres. Alongside of the float the people of the pageant, Indians, padres, trappers, Spaniards and pioneers will march, the characters being portrayed by Sonoma Native Sons and Daughters in striking costumes of the period. Costumes will all be furnished by Goldstein and Company, of San Francisco. The builder of the float is the man who constructed the beautiful Valley of the Moon float for the Sonoma Business Men's Association, the float which won a $400 prize at Petaluma a few years ago.

The Native Sons and Daughters originally planned to feature the Bear Flag lowering and the raising of the Stars and Stripes, but found that too many similar instances were to be in the parade and that Sonoma would not have the fine position it could get in the line of march if the Mission period was adhered to. They therefore decided on the present fine plan which will do much to attract further attention to our Mission City.

MURDER AT SANTA ROSA OIL STATION

Chris Karston, 50 proprietor of the South Park service station at the Santa Rosa city limits on the highway which enters the city from Petaluma, was shot to death and robbed by unknown bandits at 11:30 o'clock Sunday night.

Karston was just closing up for the night when the crime was committed. No one witnessed the shooting, but a closed car occupied by a man and a woman was seen speeding away from the scene shortly afterwards. Karston was shot six times and it is believed he had a considerable sum of money on him.

The dead man leaves a wife and four children who were on an outing on the Russian River.

The authorities so far have found no clue that might lead to the identity of the murderers.

Rancher Says It Sure Pays To Advertise, But---

It is such a comfortable feeling to advertise and then sell everything you advertise, so thought an Index-Tribune patron who, last week advertised all his household goods and awaited results. Early in the afternoon of the day his ad appeared people began to come and take advantage of the Buena Vista man's bargains. He sold everything in sight and at the end of the perfect day had nothing left but one comforter, in which he curled up for a night's sleep. Such a comfortable feeling to have sold everything. Maybe!

INSTALLS OFFICERS AT SANTA ROSA

District Deputy Grand President Florence Adler and her grand officers visited Santa Rosa Parlor, N. D. G. W., on Thursday night of last week and installed the officers of that Parlor. Mrs. Adler and her aides acquitted themselves in a splendid manner and were much complimented on their work.

Following the installation Mrs. Adler was presented with a handsome gift by the Santa Rosans, a half dozen cut glass sherbet glasess being given the visiting official from Sonoma. The Native Daughters concluded the evening with a banquet in which the Santa Rosa Native Sons also participated. There were speeches by prominent members present, including Mrs. Adler and Bert Kerner, of Sonoma.

Those who accompanied the district deputy grand president and assisted in the ceremonies were Gladys Small, past president; Dorellis Schmidt, grand marshal; Mary Mohr, organist; Mae Norrbom, secretary, Dorothy Breitenbach, grand outside sentinel; Marie Anderson, first vice president; Nellie Peterson, chairman.

A number of other prominent Native Daughters, including Mrs. Paul Robin, and others, accompanied the party.

An invitation from Napa Parlor is the next social affair in contemplation by Sonoma Parlor.

PROMINENT VISITORS AT EMPARAN HOME

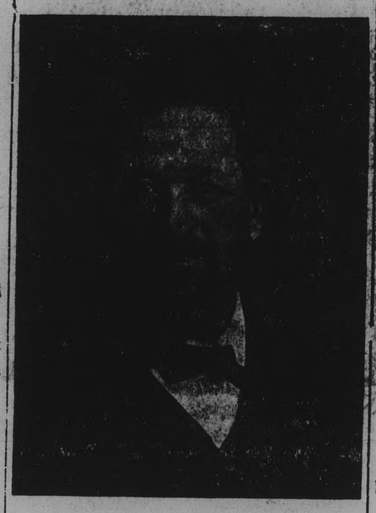
Last Sunday Commandant and Mrs. McDonnell of Mare Island, accompanied by Mrs. McDonnell's mother, and by Captain and Mrs. J. D. Murray, visited Mrs. Emparan at the old Vallejo home. They lunched in the garden, going later to Fountain Grove, near Santa Rosa, to visit the distinguished Japanese owner of that property. Mrs. Emparan and grandson accompanied them and the party was lavishly entertained.

Mrs. Emparan was much interested in the 700 year old sword of her host and other heirlooms and relics viewed.

Mrs. H. D. Burmester left this week for Branscombe, Mendocino county, where she will enjoy a vacation for the benefit of her health at the picturesque resort of Milton McGimsey.

One Of California's Old Residents Succumbs After A Long Life Of Activity

Wednesday morning, about 9 o'clock, City Marshal James H. Albertson passed away at his home on Broadway after an illness of but a few weeks. Mr. Albertson had reached the venerable age of 82 years, but up to the short time ago that he was stricken with paralysis he had been active in the discharge of his duties and down town every day.



JAMES ALBERTSON

California has lost a typical pioneer in the passing of Jim Albertson, "Curly-Headed Jim" as they used to call him in the old days when he drove the stage coach on some of the most dangerous roads of Northern California. Although born in Illinois, Mr. Albertson was typically Western. He was one of the cleverest drivers among the early timers who handled the reins on six horses and Jim's route over the Geysers road took skill of a rare order. He afterwards drove the Lakeville stage and was known to all travelers of that day because of his affable smile, ready wit and his courtesy.

In 1871 Mr. Albertson was marriel to Miss Sophie Lewis. Mrs. H. C. Culberson, still living, was one of the witnesses at the ceremony. For over 50 years the couple lived most happily here in Sonoma, celebrating their golden wedding in 1922. Just 10 months ago the good wife passed to the Great Beyond, and it was a sad blow, from which Mr. Albertson really never recovered. From that day he began to show signs of breaking down, although continuing in his official capacity of city marshal and tax collector, which positions he had held for almost 30 years.

Deceased was an old member of the Odd Fellows' Lodge, which honored him often in his lifetime and officiated at his funeral here yesterday. In the I. O. O. F. hall, where festivities attendant upon his golden wedding was remembered by friends and lodge members, the silent form yesterday reposed in the flower covered casket and was sorrowfully viewed by scores of old acquaintances and neighbors. His kindly ways, his devotion to duty, his love of little children, his loyalty to his home town, his upright, honest dealings with his fellows, were all recalled.

Among those who sorrowed at his bier was a surviving brother, Frank Albertson, of Ukiah, who arrived in Sonoma the day before deceased passed away and was recognized by Mr. Albertson, who fondly embraced him. The brothers thus parted. Frank Albertson returning to Ukiah, only to be recalled a day later when Death summoned the Sonoma pioneer.

Another who grieved at the passing of "Uncle Jim" is his foster-niece, Mrs. Nellie Sullivan Farris, whom the late Mr. and Mrs. Albertson raised from a little child. She tenderly cared for him until the end and will miss his kindly presence in the household where she long resided as a member of the family.

The services at Odd Fellows' hall, impressively beautiful, were conducted by Rev. S. E. Crowe, of the M. E. church, Chaplain Will Dunn and Noble Grand Abele, of the Lodge.

Cremation at Mt. Olivet, in San Mateo county, will take place today, after which the ashes of the pioneer will be brought back to Sonoma to repose on the hillside of Sonoma Valley, the vale he loved so dearly.

BENCH WARRANT ISSUED ON MONDAY

A bench warrant was issued the forepart of the week for George Cavaglia, under arrest for alleged manufacture and possession of liquor.

Cavaglia appeared in court and offered bonds furnished by A. Garavanta of El Verano and Sam Ganos of Boyes Springs. His hearing is set for the latter part of this month.

Student Proves Worth Of Sonoma Valley Soil

George Dolcini, agricultural student at the high school, who has already gained recognition for his vegetables and fruit, has a splendid garden this year, his acreage on Broadway being a testimonial to his scientific methods and to the soil of Sonoma Valley. The ground is just the average, but under Dolcini's cultivation and plenty of irrigation it has been highly developed. The 1925 tomato patch is a marvel, the vines having made a tall, luxuriant growth and being loaded with tomatoes of mammoth size.

Dolcini has a field of sweet corn, the stalks being 10 feet high. His Kentucky Wonder beans are his banner crop and the sales prove that gardening with Dolcini is a success financially as well as scientifically.

Motorists from the bay cities are keen for George's vegetables and he has quite a number of other customers who appreciate this fresh garden truck.

Two good wells and water distributed over the graden by a well arranged pipe system play an important part in the success of the young student's project. He is to re-enter high school the coming term.

Gathering Garbage On The Highway

Gathering shells by the seashore may be all right, but the state highway maintenance man is all in the dumps when he goes over the highway and begins to gather garbage there. Evidently some bright and shining light conceived the plan of running out on the highway and dumping garbage there. The Foster ranch district has been a favorite spot. The highway crew points out that the practice is against the law and that they do not intend to haul away junk much longer. A watch will be kept, the number of the cars doing the dumping will be taken and prosecution will follow.

VINEBURG MAN GETS $5000 FOR INJURIES

J. Tobiason, of Vineburg, who has been in the Marine Hospital for the past 10 months as a result of injuries in an accident up north, is now improving, although at one time it was thought his leg would have to be amputated.

Mr. Tobiason recently settled a damage suit which he brought against the Crowley Launch Company for the injuries he received, and $5000 was accepted in a settlement out of court.

The accident was due to the carelessness of employees who were loading the vessel on which Mr. Tobiason was employed and who dumped a load of lumber into the hold of the vessel where the Vineburg man was working. Tobiason was frightfully crushed, his leg being broken in three places. A government surgeon in the Marine Hospital is given the credit of saving the limb.

Mrs. Tobiason and little sons of Vineburg have been constant visitors to the bedside of the patient during his long stay at the hospital.

MRS. SUSAN WHITING A WELCOME VISITOR

Mrs. Susan Whiting of San Francisco, whose late husband, H. C. Whiting, was long connected with the N. W. P. railroad, has been in Sonoma for a day or two, combining business with a visit to old friends.

While here Mrs. Whiting arranged with William Trudgen, well known stone mason, for some extensive improvements to the Whiting plot in Mountain Cemetery, where her late husband and his brother, and Mrs. Whiting's father are at rest.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY ARE BARGAIN DAYS

Shoppers and thrifty folks in general will find some slendid bargains advertised on page three. These are the offering of the Sonoma merchants to the monthly bargain days which have been regularly put on two days every month since February 1st. Patronize the stores featuring these bargains and encourage the Sonoma merchants to offer specials.

Mrs. Wicker was hostess to the Bridge Club Thursday at her home on Second Street East.

GENEVIEVE WHITE BECOMES BRIDE OF EARL ADAMS

Popular Young Lady Plights Troth At the Home of Her Sister In Agua Caliente.

Wedding bells rang out last evening at Agua Caliente when Miss Genevieve B. White, popular young postmistress of Agua Caliente Springs, became the bride of Earl Adams, of Cloverdale.

The ceremony was performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Stickel, of Caliente Park avenue, the latter a sister of the bride. The honeymoon will be spent in Lake county and other attractive Northern California points of interest, after which the newlyweds will settle in their new home at Cloverdale.

The groom holds a responsible position as yard manager for the Redwood Investment Lumber Company and is well and favorably known here.

The young folks will be extended hearty congratulations by their large circle of friends.

JUNIOR BRIDGE CLUB MEETING

Mrs. A. K. McGrath was hostess to the Junior Bridge Club on Wednesday. A delicious luncheon followed by the usual bridge game was enjoyed. The table was prettily decorated in crimson and gold tones. The bridge scores revealed that Mrs. Neal Dodge had captured first prize, an iridescent compote, while the consolation prize went to Mrs. L. H. Golton.

Plans for the Cotillion Club were made and it was decided to hold the first dance the first Wednesday in September. About 35 couples will comprise the charter membership. The assembly will meet at the Woman's Club house for the dancing parties.

Mrs. Martha Bosworth of Mexico City, a sister of J. J. Northmore, of Fetters, is here on a visit to her brother and his family. Mrs. Bosworth's husband is a prominent business man of the southern republic.

SECOND STREET EAST MAY SOON BE PAVED

A number of property owners interested in paving Second Street East have interceded with Supervisor Lowell to have the new Vineburg highway contractors, Tichert & Sons, give an estimate of the cost of the work. It is understood that if the work is done while the Vineburg road is building, the paving could be put in at a very reasonable figure.

The street has many pretty homes and a paved thoroughfare would add greatly to their appearance and to the property values in that section of our city. The property owners would, of course, be called upon to pay for the improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Spreckels, who will be at their country home, Sobre Vista, all during the month of August, attended the Egg Day frolic at Petaluma Wednesday.

HOW THE GOVERNOR STANDS

The news columns of anti-administration newspapers often allude to men who will run for Governor next time and predict that various ones can beat Friend Richardson. In the light of this it is interesting to ask the man on the street who will be the next Governor of California. A large majority will tell you that if Richardson runs again he'll be re-elected. A politician chipped in on a conversation of this kind the other day and declared that Mr. Average Voter, who predicted the re-election of our present Governor was wrong, as Richardson had made many enemies on his veto of the gasoline tax.

The gasoline tax veto was a safe and sane thing to do. Pledged to economy, Governor Richardson thought it neither just nor prudent to raise an immense fund through a gasoline tax, which might easily become a pork barrel. State highways we would like to continue building but the huge sum which would have been added by the tax would have made spending all too easy a matter. The taxpayers should rejoice that California has a Governor who is opposed to creating pork barrels, no matter how easy the method. Politicians, of course, miss the free and easy access to the public trough, but the average man and woman is with Governor Richardson in his stand against this gentry.

The sob sister press has a following which denounces Richardson for his attitude in capital punishment, but there are thousands of others who rejoice that our Golden State has an executive who believes in letting the law take its course and in punishing crime with the extreme penalty when a man is convicted and sentenced. With crime rampant all over the country and men being shot down in cold blood by greedy criminals, many of them paroled men who have had their chance and forfeited it, there is need for a man like Governor Richardson. He places your life and mine and the security of men and women in general, above that of the fiend in the condemned cell. The Governor is the friend and helper of all unfortunates who seek to rise above prison stigma and really rehabilitate themselves. He is strong for the convict camps that men may have their chance to live beyond the prison walls. He encourages and aids these things, but he will not let sentiment swerve him from his duty to society when a criminal commits a cold-blooded crime. He does not propose to defeat justice by interfering. Those who know Richardson will tell you that whether a crook be rich or poor he would get the same treatment at the hands of the Governor, whose policy in such matters is hands off.

HERE IS A CRIME—WINE, FOURTEEN CENTS

The injustice of the prohibition law is apparent in the recent shipment of 7411 gallons of wine from a Sonoma Valley cellar to Lodi where it is to be converted into sacramental or medicinal wine. The wine, made in good faith by an expert winemaker, represents a big investment and has been tied up ever since prohibition. Its real value is at the least 75 cents per gallon, yet the owner has been compelled to accept 14 cents per gallon for it. Those fortunate enough to have the special government permit to manufacture legal wine (sacramental or medicinal) will make a lot of money out of it, while the Sonoma Valley property owner who toiled early and late to cultivate his vineyard, bring it into bearing, harvest his crop and make his wine must either suffer a complete loss or take what he can get.

The sacramental and medicinal wine channels have been the talk of the nation, and leaks in Chicago and other places have led to the arrest of high officials charged with law enforcement. Nevertheless, the government protects dealers in these legal wines while discriminating against, policing and impoverishing vineyardists who should have the first consideration.

It is to be hoped that the day is not far distant when all light wines will be given legal status and restored to the people. Our vineyardists will then have an outlet for their product at fair prices and will not have to sacrifice their wine for vinegar or for sacramental purposes, and the get-rich-quick day of the moonshiner will be brought to an end.

Just at the time it is announced that the government narcotic squad is to be put on the trail of bootleggers to help clean up the country, a Chicago dispatch tells of the arrest of one Colonel Beach, head of the narcotic agents of the district, who is charged with grafting. Will some one please page Diogenes!

DINNER IN HONOR OF EL VERANO WRITER

A dinner complimentary to Archibald McKiver, clever El Verano correspondent of the Index-Tribune, was given last Saturday night at El Verano's up to date hotel, the Tavern. The management had decorated the table in handsome bouquets of roses and Mrs. Parente prepared a delicious menu of ravioli and chicken for the nine guests present. A real Bohemian touch was given to the affair when some strolling gypsy players, a 14 year old violinist and his sister, who were camped along the creek nearby, came in and rendered some beautiful musical numbers, both popular and classic.

McKiver, guest of honor on this occasion, has been the veteran and original correspondent of the Index-Tribune for many years and has a big following. The dinner in his honor was attended by friends from Sonoma and Santa Rosa

GLEN ELLEN ROAD SUIT FILED TUESDAY

Claiming that fences and sheds have been built on and vegetables planted in Railroad avenue, Glen Ellen, by Mr. and Mrs. E. Barsi, so that the entrance to his property was blocked, L. F. Hendley has filed suit in the superior court at Santa Rosa to secure a court order giving him easement from his property and an injunction to prevent the further blocking of the roadway.

In his complaint, Hendley claims that he bought the property at Glen Ellen on the representation of maps showing Railroad avenue, on which the place abuts, as the entrance to the property, but that this avenue had recently been blocked by the Barsis, who planted gardens on the highway and built fences across it. R. M. Quackenbush is plaintiff's attorney.

BOUGHT GRAHAM BROTHERS TRUCK

Thomas Vella, brother of the Sonoma Mission Creamery man, has purchased a 1 1-2 ton Graham Brothers truck through the J. H. Williams agency, of which L. S. Cunningham is local representative. Vella looked around at all the makes and found the Graham Brothers truck best suited in every way to his needs. It is a handsome and powerful machine. ...

A CORRECTION

We are informed that the aged Mr. Loveall who plows so successfully despite his 90 odd years, is not the Loveall after whom the valley back of Buena Vista is named.

Otto Rufus is authority for the correction that Loveall Valley was named for two young Frenchmen who formerly lived in that country as early as 1853. John Jones, a pioneer of the hills, used to visit them and told Mr. Rufus of them.

Jake Friedger and George Harms and son of Stockton have been up near Friedger's boyhood home near Glen Ellen on the trail of the elusive deer. Friedger is the son of the late Jack Friedger, pioneer settler of what is now known as Triniti. While here Friedger visited his sister, Mrs. Tony Cereghino.

The Misses Friedger, who have been spending their vacation of two weeks here, have returned to San Francisco.

M. A. Phelps, mail carrier, who lives at Triniti, was gored by a bull Sunday. He is doing nicely under the care of Dr. McGrath.

Major and Mrs. Cuffe of San Rafael were visitors last week at the home of Mrs. Erazmus.

H. Locarnini, Mare Island, is enjoying his annual vacation. He will spend his furlough at El Verano with his parents, and trip the light fantastic at local dances, where he will instruct the natives in all of the latest steps and glides.

The cucumber crop is being harvested on the L. P. Kearney tract. The cucumbers are all of a nice size and this year's crop promises to be the largest ever harvested.

El Verano is still wet, judging from the odor which permeates the atmosphere here, where sparkling Sonoma Valley vintage is being loaded into tank cars. The wine, a product of the Goldstein ranch, is being shipped to the Roma winery at Lodi. Although it is impossible to get a drink, natives are getting a nose full, which brings back memories of the good old days.

Herbert Ammann, of Mare Island, is here to spend two weeks with his parents.

L. Boissonneau of Oakland was in El Verano over Sunday, visiting his brother.

Another new residence will soon be under construction in South El Verano, where Mr. Nelson, of San Francisco, who recently bought land here, intends to erect one of the most up-to-date homes. He will make his future home here when the new residence is completed.

A bouncing baby boy was born to Mrs. Fred Venton last Friday in Oakland. Mrs. Venton is the daughter of Mrs. John Andrews of this place and lived here before she married Mr. Venton, who is an S. P. fireman. The little fellow has been christened Fredrick Carlyle Venton, Jr. Mother and babe are doing nicely.

Miss J. Cogo, popular El Verano girl, is the proud driver of a new Buick car. The new machine is a dandy and shows up well on the highway and streets of our town.

John Serres, Agua Caliente toma to king, was transacting business in El Verano Tuesday. He reports a large crop of tomatoes and cucumbers at his ranch.

Miss C. M. Jacobs, after a visit with friends in Sonoma Vista, left Tuesday for Berkeley, where she will enter a Berkeley hospital as a nurse

STREETS NOW CAN BE PLANTED

The Sonoma county Board of Supervisors granted the petition of Kenwood property owners for the abandonment and closing of streets in the town of Kenwood, requested to permit the specified thoroughfares to be used for agricultural purposes.

The petition, signed by 15 land owners, was presented to the board some time ago, and set forth that the streets and alleys as designated on maps of the town adopted by the supervisors years ago, were not being used, claiming that no town lots along the avenues had been sold. The streets, comprising a considerable portion of Kenwood, will now revert to farm uses, being returned to the owners by whom they were originally dedicated.

What is a FUSE?

A FUSE is a safety device—a small strip of fusible metal inserted in a circuit.

When there is a short circuit, or the current increases for other reasons beyond a safe amount, the fusible metal in the fuse melts and breaks the circuit.

The fuse in this way prevents damage from over heated wires.

Old Pioneer's Letter Tells Of Sonoma In 1847

The interesting series of letters written by James C. Ward, a pioneer of the 40's, which was published in the San Francisco Argonaut, recently touched on life in Sonoma which Mr. Ward visited in July.

The letter follows:

"San Francisco, July 23, 1847.

"Since I wrote you I have taken two jaunts to the other side of the other side of the bay. The first was to Sonoma, where we have a military post. A beautiful plain is stretched out in front of the town and reaches to the bay, a distance of some three miles; considerable of it is covered with trees—mostly oaks of fine proportions, and growing somewhat apart—which gives it the appearance of a park. The ground is covered with wild oats. In riding over it with Captain Brackett, who commands the post, we came upon a herd of antelope, about 30 in number, and most beautiful to look at. As we were well mounted we gave chase, but it was impossible to overtake them; indeed, they would get far away and then stop to gaze at us until we came almost within pistol shot, and again they were off with the 'wings of the wind.'

"Though the lands appear fertile, the Captain says they cannot be cultivated, owing to dry seasons and grasshoppers which devour the vegetation. I visited, not far from the town, the farm of Don Andreas Hoepner, the Russian gentleman of whom I wrote in a former letter as playing so delightfully on the piano. It is a league square, given him by General Vallejo for instructing his children in music. A charming spot. The house, just built, standing on an eminence, is surrounded by large trees; and a stream of water, which is in some places deep enough to swim a horse, runs through a great part of the property, often hidden by the bushes and trees upon its banks. About an eighth of a mile from the house is a hot spring of a temperature of 120 degrees, which he intends conducting into baths. Hoepner is a man of taste; if he carries out his plans it will become a paradise.

"He told me that the portion of the place nearest the hills was covered mornings and evenings with deer. General Vallejo, commandante of this portion of the country under Mexican rule, is said to be the most cultivated Californian in the country. He very kindly invited me to stay at his house but I did not accept of his hospitality. The house seemed comfortably furnished as was that of his brother, on whom I also called. I passed one night with their brother-in-law, Mr. Leese, an American, who, with his wife, gave us a cordial welcome. Their children were all beautiful and well bred, and my time was made to pass very agreeably. It was at their house that I smoked my first cigarrito which was made, ligthed and presented in its delicate silver holder by the lady of the house."

MISS MYRA GREEN HAS RESIGNED

Alice M. Brewer, principal of the Roseland school, has been appointed physical education director and supervisor of Americanization work for Sonoma county schools, succeeding Miss Myra Green, formerly of Petaluma, who has resigned to accept a position with the Sacramento Part-Time School as co-ordinator, it was announced by Miss Louise Clark, the county school superintendent.

Miss Green, who is leaving the county superintendent's staff after more than two years of service, is making an adventageous connection with the Sacramento school. She was already under a Sonoma county contract for the coming term, but this was canceled by the county superintendent to permit Miss Green to accept the Sacramento position.

UNIFORM WAGES FOR PICKING PRUNES SET

The uniform schedule of wages to be paid pickers and field workers in Napa county during the present harvest of prunes was adopted at the farm advisor's office in Napa when 32 growers met for that purpose.

Orchard workers who come into the field to work for a few days or for only a part of the season will be paid $3 per ton for picking. To those who come into the orchards and work through the entire season $4 per ton will be paid. Pickers who shake the trees and make a complete clean-up will be paid at the rate of $4.50 a ton.

Dry yard workers will be paid 35 cents per hour. For dehydration the rate will be $25 per ton, according to the agreement.

Napa county's prune crop for the season, according to an estimate by Farm Advisor H. J. Baade, will be about 9000 tons. Sugars and Imperials are now being picked in prune orchards through Napa Valley and withan a few days the picking will be in full swing.—Napa Register.

FORMER SONOMA BOYS ARE ON TRIP

Ray and Robert Poppe, sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Poppe, accompanied by their relatives, Riley and Byron Swisher, of Healdsburg, have been enjoying a camping trip in the Gualala section.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

Los Angeles American Legion members have about completed their drive for the city's share of the $5,000,000 endowment fund for disabled veterans and World War orphans.

The Los Angeles office of the endowment drive campaigners is to be closed, according to State Adjutant James K. Fisk.

In all parts of the state, the drive for California's share of the endowment fund is progressing favorably, according to Fish, and a final effort is to be made during August to reach the final figure set for the state's quota.

V. S. McClatchy, leader in the Japanese exclusion law fight, is to be one of the principal speakers at the coming state convention of the American Legion to be held September 15th to 17th on Catalina Island.

McClatchy is to speak on the immigration laws and is to ask the American Legion to demand that no change be made in the present exclusion law by Congress.

According to state headquarters of the Legion, a record attendance is expected at the state meeting of the organization in the South, as special low rates have been granted on all railroad and steamship lines.

Mrs. Helayne Johannsen, pioneer mother of Sonoma Valley, was in town Monday with her daughter, Mrs. Coops, and is again in excellent health although past 80 years of age. Mrs. Johannsen suffered a stroke some time ago and was in a critical condition, but medical science, skilled nursing and a splendid constitution overcame the effects of the attack and she is now quite herself again.

Tom Willits, of Oakland, who has a responsible position with the maintenance department of the P. G. and E. Company, is here for his annual vacation. Tom is an old Sonoma boy, formerly residing on the present Watlz ranch north of town where he raised fine peaches. He likes to get back in the peach season, enjoy some of our peerless fruit and renew old friendships.

Mrs. LeGro of Santa Rosa was a recent visitor at the Janet Cooper home. She was accompanied by her son, Dr. LeGro, a prominent dentist of Detroit, Michigan.

HAS HARD LUCK WITH MAIL BOX

C. Minelli, who owns property on the curve of the state highway near the El Verano bridge, had no trouble with his rural delivery mail box until the new highway caused motorists to take the turn on just the angle to run into it. Several times the letter box was jerked from its moorings when its redwood post was hit by a machine and broken.

Minelli then conceived the bright idea of putting up a real substantial affair, one that would resist all comers. He placed a barrel at the side of the road, used it for a concrete form and upon it placed his mail box. The novel arrangement was a regular Gibraltar and Minelli was proud of it. However, it caught the eye of the highway maintenance crew and they pronounced it a menace. Minelli's mail box was again downed. The highway crew hooked a chain on the work of art and, presto, it was no more.

The puzzled property owner threatens to put his box up in a tree and ask for air mail service.

"I can't afford to go anywhere on my vacation"

How many friends have you heard make this remark? Perhaps you have made it yourself.

Why not, in addition to your regular Mercantile Savings Account, deposit a small extra amount each month in a special vacation fund?

The fund will grow faster than you realize, interest will be compounded, and when the next vacation comes around you will not be one of the "stay-at-homes."

BRANDS ACCUSATION FALSE

Branding as false accusations made against him in the $1,000,000 wine complaint of Charles Forni in the Napa county superior court, Sam Sebastiani has issued a statement defending his position.

Mariana Fornia and Sebastiani, who have been associated in business for four years, are charged by Charles Forni, a third partner, with failure to make accounting to him. Sebastiani claims in his statement that Charles Forni was placed in charge of the plant and all moneys of the partnership five months ago. The other two partners were not satisfied and ordered an audit of the books. The audit is not complete but Sebastiani claims that "an unsatisfactory condition" is already shown.
